

AUSTRIA MUST GIVE UP ALL TRADE SHIPS

PARIS, July 21.—The Austrians were in possession of the complete terms of their peace settlement today. The remainder of the document, the first section of which was handed to them June 2, was given to their representatives at St. Germain yesterday by Paul Dutaasta, secretary of the peace conference, with an utter lack of ceremony. They have fifteen days in which to file additional observations.

Principal Terms.

The principal terms of the treaty are:

Austria must accept responsibility for loss and damages to the allies through a war of aggression. She must surrender all of her merchant fleet and a fifth of her river fleet within three months. She must make reparation within thirty days for damages to allied civilians and their property. She must abolish conscription and reduce her army to 30,000. She must accept her share of the former dual monarchy's pre-war debt, which is divided among the nations which formerly constituted the empire. She must reduce all her armaments and surrender all surplus. She must renounce the Bucharest and Brest-Litovsk treaties. She must turn over all her cables to the allies.

Three Bond Issues.

The definite amount of indemnities will be determined by a special section of the allied reparations commission, upon which there will be American representation. Austria will be required to pay "a reasonable sum" within the period extending from the present to May 1, 1921. Before May 11 of that year the commission will appraise Austria of the full sum of her liabilities and the schedule of payment. In raising the money for reparations, Austria will make three bond issues. The first, which shall bear no interest, will be made from May 1, 1919. The second will bear 2 1/2 per cent interest between 1921 and 1926 and 5 per cent thereafter. The third will bear 3 per cent interest.

To Restore Art Loot.

Austria will deliver within three months after ratification of the treaty a fixed number of domestic animals to Italy, Serbia, and Rumania. All art treasures will be restored to the city in invaded territories from which they were removed during the war. Expenses of the army of occupation must be paid from November 3, 1918, until it is withdrawn.

POSSES SCOUR HILLS FOR MEN WHO ATTACKED GIRL

GREENSBURG, Pa., July 21.—A posse of armed citizens and State troopers searching the Laurel mountains for four men and a boy, alleged to have assaulted thirteen-year-old Emma Enos, had made no arrests up to early today.

According to the girl's disconnected story, she was attacked by the men while walking along a road near here.

FINDS BILL IN BIRD'S NEST.

LIGONIER, Ind., July 21.—"They're good any place," so when a gleam of green in a robin's nest on the Citizens' Bank building caught his eye David Wertheimer reached up and plucked therefrom a dollar bill. Bank clerks think the bird may be responsible for recent difficulty they had in making their accounts balance.

NEGROES FIRE INTO GROUPS OF SAILORS

Several colored men were taken from street cars, while others walking on the sidewalks were knocked down by the mob. At Fourteenth street and Pennsylvania avenue an overseas soldier climbed through an open window of a street car, and grabbing a negro passenger by the coat collar, dragged him from the car. A woman passenger on the car became hysterical and was escorted from the scene by one of the soldiers. Continuing up the Avenue, the mob met three negroes in front of the Riggs National Bank. Two of them managed to escape, while the third was felled by a blow from a stone wrapped in a soldier's handkerchief.

Riot Calls Numerous.

Police headquarters received several riot calls between 10 o'clock and midnight, and reserves from the First and Sixth precincts were rushed higher and thither along Pennsylvania avenue to the scenes of the fights.

Shortly after midnight, Police Headquarters reported the situation under control. It was not until nearly 2 o'clock this morning that another riot call was sent in from Seventh and L streets, followed with one a few minutes later from Tenth and L streets. Reserves from the First, Second and Sixth precincts were rushed to the scene, but found only a crowd of negroes standing on the corners. While it was reported that a white man had been attacked, they were unable to verify the report.

Plan Riots Tonight.

The police learned that a gathering of service men is to meet at Seventh street and Pennsylvania avenue at 9 o'clock tonight to carry on the riots on a larger scale. It is understood that the police will center-their activities on the proposed meeting to prevent a repetition of last night's affair.

The news of the riot spread among the colored population last night like wildfire and several telephone calls were received at police headquarters and the First precinct from negroes who had heard of the riots and were afraid to go home.

CONGRESS READY TO ACT FOR ENDING OF CRIME WAVE IN WASHINGTON

There and the value of their property, and the number of nationals of other countries killed by Mexicans since Diaz's time.

Nothing short of an apology from the Carranza government of Mexico, together with evidence showing that the band of desperadoes who insulted the American flag and held up and robbed a number of American sailors have been summarily punished, will be acceptable to the United States.

This was said to be the attitude of the State Department today, as officials awaited further information of the matter which occurred July 6, near Tampico.

This is territory where Carranza is supposed to be in complete control, and because of this alleged control neither American soldiers nor sailors are permitted to carry side arms. The defenseless condition of the American bluejackets made them easy prey for the bandits.

Apology Would Help.

Because it is admitted in official quarters that the incident represents the most grave feature of Mexican-American relations in the last year, the State Department is hoping that the matter has already been adjusted by the American naval officers in Mexican waters. If the officers have demanded an apology, and one has been given by the Carranza authorities at Tampico, the matter would largely be settled.

One additional provision, however, would be necessary. It would be the capture and punishment of the bandits who committed the insult and robbery.

The next step of the department, therefore, will depend on the report of Commander Finney, who is in charge of the U. S. S. Topeka. He is the ranking officer in Tampico waters. It was he who sent in the first report telling of the insult and robbery perpetrated on the crew of a small motor sailing launch of the U. S. S. Cheyenne.

COLORED PEOPLE MOVE TO CHECK CRIME WAVE

Every effort to check the crime wave in Washington, in so far as colored criminals are implicated, is being made by the Parents' League, which, with its 20,000 members, constitutes the most powerful organization of colored people in the District.

The Rev. Dr. James L. Pinn, one of the officers of the league, stated today that a mass meeting of the 20,000 members of the league will be held in and around the Metropolitan A. M. E. Church tomorrow night to formulate plans whereby the crime wave can be best checked through co-operation.

Dr. Pinn stated that police protection would not be asked for the meeting, inasmuch as the Parents' League will tolerate no incendiary speeches, and that the meeting will be orderly, and called only for the purpose of enlisting the aid of the best elements of colored people in the District to help check recurring assaults by colored criminals on white women.

BERGER BRIEFS GO TO HOUSE BODY

Attorney for Victor Berger, Milwaukee Socialist Congressman, today submitted briefs to the House Elections Committee in their effort to prevent the unseating of Berger, who was elected while under indictment.

The Berger hearing was reopened after several weeks' recess. The general lines of Berger's defense are that he has not been finally convicted of any crime and therefore should not be denied the seat to which he says he was legally elected. His conviction is before the Supreme Court.

Arguments that the third section of the fourteenth constitutional amendment pertained only to acts committed in the civil war were made before the committee by Henry Cochran, attorney for Berger.

This amendment provides that any person who has taken the oath of allegiance to the United States and then violated it cannot hold a seat in Congress.

Cochran submitted a brief containing some of the debate in Congress at the time of adoption of the amendment.

GENERAL DICKMAN ORDERED TO BORDER

have had today will be put over until Tuesday.

Grayson said it might possibly be several days before the President is able to resume his conferences with Republican Senators.

Grayson emphasized that care is required to effect a speedy recovery. President Wilson had planned to resume today his conferences with Republican Senators in line with his policy of conciliation to win support for unreserved ratification of the peace treaty and the league of nations covenant. Last week the conferees were more or less friendly to the President's plans, but those invited to discuss the subject today were regarded as out and out opponents of the two instruments in their present form.

First to have seen the President today was Senator Walter E. Edge of New Jersey, who declared July 1 that he was unqualifiedly opposed to the covenant unless reservations to safeguard American sovereignty and absolute independence were adopted. He has been very plain-spoken on that point, and it is expected that President Wilson will have to use convincing arguments to sway him from his purpose.

For League in Principle.

"I am for a league of nations in principle, but there must be reservations to the covenant executed at Versailles," said Senator Edge.

Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska, second on this list, is likewise opposed to ratification without reservations or amendments. He made this positive declaration in a speech in the Senate July 15, and made it known today that he has not changed his mind.

Senator William M. Calder of Iowa has an appointment with the President at 4 o'clock. He made a vigorous speech in the Senate at the last session opposing the league of nations on the ground that in its present form it virtually means a surrender of the nation's sovereignty. It was said today that he is in favor of strong reservations.

During the week the President will confer with the most pronounced opponents.

MORALS SQUAD SEIZES INDIANA STILL OUTFIT

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., July 21.—A full-fledged moonshine still and a quantity of freshly distilled "mountain dew" were confiscated by the police in a raid on the home of Edgar Sherwood. Sherwood "wasn't in" when the morals squad called, but the officers carted away a tin condenser, a worm tube, a tub for mash, a large wooden paddle, and gas connections. Peculiar aroma arising from the home-made stagger stuff led neighbors to sniff the air and then to call the police.

G.O.P. CAUCUS THIS WEEK ON HOUSE LEADER

Republican Congressmen today determined to caucus Wednesday night. Dissatisfied Republicans will at that time make an effort to increase the steering committee by four members, as was originally proposed in the Republican reorganization of the House. Rumors are current that Congressman Mann will be asked to assume the House leadership, but this is denied by prominent Republicans.

Ostensibly the caucus will be called to consider the Republican stand on several amendments to the Mondell soldiers' land bill, but it is admitted that the real issue will be the future leadership of the House.

The situation was brought to a crisis by the failure of the House to pass the second agricultural appropriation bill with a daylight savings repeal rider, after it had refused to override the President's veto, because of the rider, on the first bill. Seventy-nine Republicans, under the leadership of Congressman Moore of Pennsylvania, a member of the steering committee, bolted the party leadership and voted with the Democrats against the rider.
